4. Typography

Role	Recommended Font	Usage
Display / logo support	Orbitron or Exo 2	Large sci-fi headings, hero titles, short labels.
Headings / UI	Rajdhani or Sora	Navigation, card titles, dashboard sections.

Body / product UI	Inter or IBM Plex Sans	Long copy, docs, app UI, forms, settings.
Accent / emotional line	Cormorant Garamond or Playfair Display Italic	Use sparingly for poetic companion-facing lines.

5. Logo System

- Primary mark: stylized A integrated with an infinity form, representing an assistant that augments life and connects digital context over time.
- Core feeling: new age, celestial, calm, sharp, intelligent, protective, and companion-like.
- Use the full poster logo for hero sections and launch marketing. Use the cropped mark for favicons, app icons, and compact navigation.
- Maintain generous spacing around the mark. Avoid placing it on noisy backgrounds unless contrast remains strong.
- Do not recolor outside the approved palette. Do not stretch, rotate, flatten, or add unrelated symbols.

6. Product UI Direction

- Base surfaces should use Deep Night and Void Navy with subtle star, nebula, or aurora textures.
- Use Aerealith Pink and Ether Cyan as opposing energy accents, with Aurora Violet as the bridge color.
- Cards should feel glassy, softly bordered, and luminous, but text must remain readable.
- User trust features should be visible: permissioned memory, transparent automation, scoped integrations, exports, deletion, audit logs, and clear consent.
- The assistant identity Aerie should feel present but not intrusive: helpful, calm, and permission-aware.

7. Included Icon Assets

The package includes PNG icons at 16, 24, 32, 48, 64, 96, 128, 180, 192, 256, 384, and 512 pixels, plus a multi-size favicon.ico.

- Avoid long paragraphs in decorative or wide-spaced display fonts.
- Treat pink/cyan gradients as accents, not body text colors.
- Keep CTAs plain and clear: action text should explain the result.
